10th Annual WINE COUNTRY HOSPITALITY SYMPOSIUM

Welcome! We're thrilled you're joining us for this 10th anniversary of the Wine Country Hospitality Symposium.

We are dedicated to providing education for the hospitality industry, helping entrepreneurial businesses grow and flourish. In addition to this annual symposium, we offer ongoing educational opportunities and small business advising. To learn more, please check us out at www.BECatNVC.org!

Charlie Monahan, Deputy Sector Navigator, Small Business, Napa Valley College

Elizabeth Pratt, Dean, Economic Workforce Devt. & District Auxiliary Services, Napa Valley College

9:00-9:50
ROOM 8

FEATURED SPEAKER: TRENDS IN HOSPITALITY

Trends in media, customer experience, and the entrepreneurial dilemma. Ian will share insights to his work with wine and publishing in the North Bay.

IAN WHITE, CO-FOUNDER/PRESIDENT AT JW THOMAS GROUP WINES

Ian started his career as the Wine Country Director for 7x7 Magazine. He launched and authored 7x7's dedicated Wine Country page, "Wine Insider Blog" and developed multi-platform marketing campaigns for over 200 wineries. In 2014 he became the Wine Country Director for Modern Luxury's San Francisco Magazine, and currently contributes to Wine Enthusiast, Napa Sonoma Magazine, Napa Valley Life and other wine-related consumer and industry media.

Ian co-founded J.W. Thomas with John Truchard, specializing in the creation, execution and support of wine brands with influential partners who genuinely care about, and want to contribute directly to, the success of great wines.

10:00-10:50
ROOM 7

WOWING WINE COUNTRY: SUPERB CUSTOMER SERVICE

How do you create and foster an environment where people feel loved and cared for? An atmosphere of appreciation, recognition and encouragement?

Culture - the "who we are and how we do things around here" is the invisible business asset; that system of values and beliefs an organization holds that drives behavior and influences relationships. You create that culture, so what is it saying to your customers, staff, potential staff, residents, family members and the community?

EMILY ELLIS, PRINCIPAL CONSULTANT, EDUCATION & TRAINING CONCEPTS

Emily is a program designer and facilitator for the American Hotel & Lodging Association's Educational Institute where she has served on the certification commission and the training advisory council. She worked at Walt Disney Company, where she fostered her expertise on building a culture of service. After working for Disney, she went on to become the Vice President for Training and Development at The Gaylord Entertainment Company, where she had oversight of all on-boarding, orientation and training aspects of the hotel brand/openings.

DESTINATION MARKETING

Guidelines for formulating destination-oriented marketing goals and strategies, covering trends, issues and challenges influencing tourism destination marketing and identifying elements of an integrated destination marketing plan, including harnessing technology and social media.

DON SHINDLE, GENERAL MANAGER, THE WESTIN VERASA NAPA

With more than 30 years of experience in the hospitality industry, Don Shindle brings a wealth of knowledge, strong leadership, and a passion for luxury hotel operations to his role as General Manager of The Westin Verasa Napa. Before moving to Napa, Don pursued his career in hotels throughout his native Canada, including The Algonquin in St. Andrews NB, The Delta Chelsea Inn in Toronto, The St. Eugene Mission Golf Resort in Canbrook, and The Westin Resort & Spa in Whistler.

Under Don's watch, The Westin Verasa Napa was named the 2011 Gold Magellan Award Winner for Hotels and Resorts in the Lobby & Common Space Design category; won the Great Wine Capitals' Napa Valley 2011 Best of Wine Tourism award in Accommodations; and was honored with the AAA Four Diamond Award in 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013.

CLAUDETTE SHATTO, VP OF MARKETING, V. SATTUI

Claudette started at V. Sattui Winery as a wine consultant in 2000 and worked her way up through a variety of roles, including positions in office management, business development, and finally Vice President of Public Relations and Community Affairs, a title she has held since 2007. In this time, Claudette also acquired her Associate of Science in Wine Sales and Marketing from Napa Valley College and her MBA from University of Phoenix.

In her spare time, Shatto keeps busy as a chair and board member for various Napa Valley organizations and charities, including Napa Valley Vintner's Association Community Outreach Committee, Napa County Adopt-a-School Program, and The Napa Valley Discovery Museum.

FOCUS ON FOODS: PULSE ON ARTISAN FOODS

Three movers and shakers in the world of artisan foods share their insights. Come and be inspired by their innovative approaches as they discuss: How and why did they begin? How do they engage customers and benefit the community? What can others learn from their experiences?

ALLY DEARMAN, DIRECTOR AT THE FOOD CRAFT INSTITUTE

Ally has been working to support the Bay Area's local food systems through program management since graduating from Stanford University where she ran the community Farm Stand. She is Director of the Food Craft Institute (FCI), an educational organization that strives to create and improve the viability of small and medium-scale value-added food businesses. FCI is a professional development non-profit that combines classroom and hands-on education to teach traditional food-making techniques and the entrepreneurial skills needed to build viable businesses.

Prior to that, Ally spent 3 years running nutrition programs for elementary-age students within the Oakland Unified School District. In 2009, she worked for the first-ever Eat Real Festival in Oakland, CA and returned every year to help coordinate the annual event.

PAUL KOLLING, OWNER & FOUNDER, NANA MAE'S ORGANICS

A fourth-generation California farmer, Paul Kolling learned to climb ladders and prune fruit trees just as soon as he could walk. His intellectual curiosity propelled him to UC Berkeley to earn an engineering degree and then work as a geoscientist for several years. But Paul's passion propelled him back to the land, and in 1983 he began farming his organic apple orchard full time.

Inspired by his late grandmother Nana Mae and her love of wholesome food, Paul and his wife Kendra created the esteemed Sonoma company Nana Mae's Organics, a prize-winning producer of apple juices, sauces, vinegars, fresh fruit, and other exquisite fruit products.

Today, Nana Mae's cultivates around 300 acres of heritage family orchards throughout Sonoma county—some as small as a half-acre. Paul strives to bring out the best in every orchard, every tree, and every apple by tending the land in harmony with nature and preserving wildlife habitats and watersheds. Specific Gravity Cider Company is the latest inspiration of Sonoma's most esteemed apple man.

MIKE ZAKOWSKI, OWNER, THE BEJKR

Mike Zakowski is a graduate of the Culinary Arts program at Kendall College in Chicago, Illinois. When he owned Kraftsmen Baking in Houston, Texas, he was named Best Baker in Houston and won the Best Bread award for his pain biologique during the bakery's first year of operation.

He was the Operations Manager at Artisan Bakers in Sonoma, California for 5 years and currently owns his own bakery, The Bejkr, and markets his creations at local farmers markets in Sonoma County, CA.. Mike is a member of Bread Bakers Guild Team USA and competed at the 2010 Louis Lesaffre Cup and the 2012 Coupe du Monde de la Boulangerie in the Baguette & Specialty Breads category.

WHAT'S BREWING IN WINE COUNTRY: SPOTLIGHT ON BEER

Beer here! Join two small, craft-beer producers and a beer/wine supply company owner as they talk about the growth of the beer industry in the North Bay. Learn how the beer and wine industries can co-exist as well as thrive.

SCOTT GOYNE, PRESIDENT, HENHOUSE BREWING CO

Scott brings 12 years of experience as a small business owner to his position at Henhouse Brewing. He specializes in industrial processing equipment and, as a certified herbalist, he has applied this knowledge to specializing in essential oil distillation and plant extraction. This unique specialty led to the development of Scott's local aromatic plant businesses as well as his contracts with USAID on multiple international design projects in the aromatic plant sector. Scott is our primary financial manager and experimental brewing muse.

HenHouse Brewing Company is a Sonoma County Brewery based out Petaluma. At three years old, HenHouse is distributing its beer throughout the bay area with a clear focus on delivering fresh cold beer with a positive customer service experience. HenHouse Brewing is committed to supporting our local communities and focuses on relationships with local Farmers to support our local food production and agriculture.

BEN JAYNES, BRAUMEISTER, NAPA FERMENTATION SUPPLIES

Ben is Sales Manager at Napa Fermentation Supplies, a fermentation supply store serving Napa Valley and beyond by helping a wide range of clientele: from commercial wineries all the way down to a home winemaker making 1 gallon.

Ben has managed the brewing department for the past 9 years, directly witnessing the growth of the home brew community in the wine country. Ben teaches the monthly beer class and heads up the Napa home brew club Bung Brewers United, Napa Guild.

ROBERT RANEY, CFO, SONOMA SPRINGS BREWING CO.

For the past year, Robert has advised and undertaken an active role in the expansion of Sonoma Springs Brewing Company, a craft brewery founded in 2008 by award-winning Head Brewer Tim Goeppinger and located a mile from the Sonoma Square. The brewery recently resumed operations in its new 5,000 square foot facility, and over the next year will produce 15-20 different beer varieties, focused thematically on California Ale, German, Sour, and Barrel Aged beers. The brewery will open its tasting room in early May, to compliment sales to Bay Area bars and restaurants. Future distribution expansion will include retail and farmer's market channels.
